WHAT IS STAINING & ETCHING?

When any spill which contains acid, such as wine, soda, lemon juice, vinegar or coffee comes in contact with the calcium in natural stone such as white marble, the result will be an acid etch. An acid etch appears as a dull spot, water spot, or ring.

WHAT IS FACTORY APPLIED STAIN & ETCH PROTECTION BY FOX MARBLE?

Stain & Etch Protection by Fox Marble protects natural stone like white marble in kitchens and bathrooms with MORE™, a thin & durable coating.

Coating is applied after fabrication at Fox Marble's state-of-the-art Bay Area facility.

THE FACTORY APPLIED STAIN & ETCH PROTECTION COATING PROCESS

After fabrication, our experts will apply MORE™ coating to your white marble countertops at our state-of-the-art Bay Area facility.

Your countertops will then be protected from stains and etching with a 10-year warranty.

Fox Marble is the only company in Northern California to offer a factory applied coating to prevent staining & etching.
